Yalla

Everyday Hebrew: your turn

Say your answer aloud, then write it below. Use the guide if you need help. Check the examples on page 2 after you try.

1. Meet someone

A. Tell someone your name.

B. Say: I am from London. Then try your own city.

2. At a cafe

A. You chose a large coffee. Say: Large, please.

B. Ask: How much does it cost?

3. Keep the conversation going

A. Ask someone to speak slowly.

B. Ask someone to repeat that.

Try again without reading: change your name, city or coffee size. If you have a practice partner, swap roles.

Example answers

These are possible replies, not the only correct ones. Pronunciation in Latin letters is approximate. Read each reply aloud, then cover it and try again.

1A My name is ... קוראים לי

korim li ...

Add your name after korim li.

1B I am from London. אני מלונדון

ani mi-London

Change London to your own city.

2A Large, please. גדול, בבקשה

gadol, bevakasha

For small, use katan instead of gadol.

2B How much does it cost? כמה זה עולה?

kama ze ole?

Use this after choosing what to order.

3A Could you speak slowly? אפשר לדבר לאט?

efshar ledaber leat?

You can add slikha (excuse me) at the start.

3B Could you repeat that? אפשר לחזור על זה?

efshar lakhzor al ze?

This request works regardless of who you address.
